Innovation Center Boston (East North America)

Early-Stage Collaborations Across Pharmaceutical, Medical Device and Consumer Health Sectors

If you are seeking a collaboration or investment to advance your innovative solution to improve human health, make the connection with our Johnson & Johnson Innovation team. Our regional Innovation Centers are located around the globe in the life science hot spots of Shanghai, Boston, South San Francisco and London. Each Innovation Center houses science and technology, dealmaking, and investment experts, offers a range of potential deal structures, and can contribute a variety of resources from across our company, including:

- Early-stage research funding
- International markets expertise
- Licensing and collaborations
- Pricing and reimbursement
- Investment from seed to later stage private & public financing
- Preclinical, manufacturing and clinical expertise
- Cross-sector expertise

The teams located at the Johnson & Johnson Innovation Center are interested in building relationships with regional entrepreneurs at startup companies, universities and institutes who are developing early-stage innovations that are pre-proof of concept in humans across Pharmaceuticals, Medical Devices and Consumer sectors.
